Bangalore -

Respected Sir

I beg humbly to submi that I own a house, No 5, in Subran Cotton Pe City, Bangal... house having been declared unfit f human habitation in 1898, wh plague first broke out in Ba -galore, I had lately to de -molish the entire building o raise a new one thereon. The accommodation being however very little and insufficient, I recently purchased some ad jacent land and am at present getting a new buil
-ing constructed upon the whole to render it habitable -

The building is still incomplete and requires some improvements and additions before it becomes fit for occupation -

I therefore humbly beg that an house building advance of six months' pay may be graciously sanctioned to me to enable me to complete the work.

I beg to add that I have till now spent nearly 3000 on the work.

For which act of kindness, I shall feel highly thankful.

I beg to remain
Respected Sir,
Your most obedient and humble servant,

B.V. Lakshmanrao,
Clerk, General and Rev.
Secretariat.

Humbly submitted.

I own a house in Mulleswaram, but it is practically useless for me.

In 1899, when plague was very virulent, I had to leave the City and live in a rented house at Mulleswaram. After some time, I purchased a site and built a house for myself. The climate did not, however, agree with my people all the members of my family were bed-ridden, suffering from spleen and continued fever and cold. I was myself lai up for several days. Latterly my troubles became so aggravated, that I was advised to leave the extension and go to Madras. One of my brothers-in-law grew so hopeless that he had to be removed to the Victoria Hospital as an inpatient. Another my nephew was confined to bed for months. My wife who was no better, died in the place of child birth. I was thus subject to all possible miseries and my remaining at Mulleswaram became impracticable. For these reasons which were entirely beyond my control, I was forced to quit the extension and get back to the City, where I took up a rented house. Latterly, I attempted to rebuild my old dilapitated house, and portion of this work remains unfinished.

I beg also to submit that the house at Mulleswaram is at present encumbered and is under mortgage.

In these circumstances, I humbly beg that my prayer may be favourably considered.
